"Official information was denied to the press, but I understand the deputation submitted in the strongest possible manner Liverpool's superior claims to Southampton and Milfordhaven.
"The fact that so much official zeerecy was demanded, raises expectations that Lord Stratheona may have told Sir Alfred Jones and other Liverpool owners present that they had the matter prace

"Blackburn, Halifax, and Huddersfield, Chambers of Commerce, were also represented on the deputation.

The police magistrate liberated Schultz on bail. This evening, however, the Attorney-General wired Crown Prosecutor Kane to instruct the police to have Schultz arrested, and to refuse bail.

Several heavy gales were encountered during the voyage, but no damage was done to the cruiser. At San Diego Sub-Lieut. Tre-lawney, who was being brought out to the torpedo boat destroyer Virago, and Mr. Flütherbert, midshipman, were landing for treatment, both suffering from enteric fever, and Mr. Fleming, midshipman, who was too ill to be landed, died soon after his comrades were landied. His remains were taken ashore at Port Los Angeles, and buried with sailor's honors at Santa Monica.

The earthquake at Guatamala, which shook the flagship considerably, soon after the ship's company had finished diner on the evening of April 18, when the vessel was anchored at San Jose, caused very heavy loss of life ashore. The city of Escuintla, which is the capital of the

The earthquake took place three days after the landing of the armed narties from the Grafton to quell the disturbneed caused as a result of the collection of the loan advanced at Guatamala by British financiers, who wave refused payment by the Guatamalan government, and asked their government to collect. When the Grafton arrived on April 14 the government was communicated with, and arrangements made for a conference. Meanwhile much political disturbance was caused, and the troops were called out. It seemed that fighting was imminent, when two armed parties were landed in the cutters and boats of the Grafton and the ship cleared. When the show of action was made from the British warship, the trouble subsided, and with the coincident pressure by French and German cruisers anchored off the Atlantic coast of Guatamala, arrangements were made for the settlement of the joan.

Travelers coming into the cityhad canned that the railway had been much damaged, and progress was difficult, for the embankments had been badly cracked and the rails spread in many places. Stories of death and destitution were coming into San Jose from all sides before the Grafton sailed from there two days after the carthquake, the worst stories being received from Escuintla, which province suffered the most. None of those on the Grafton could learn of the total extent of the damage, or if any of the houses of any foreigners or foreign firms had been destroyed. They heard, however, that the number of homeless in Guatamala as a result of the destruction caused by the earthquake is computed at thirty thousand. Curious Ideas Some United States Sena tors Have of Liberty.

Washington, May 7.—Discussion of the Philippine bill in the Senate took a sensational turn today. Mr. McConns, in referring to the alleged crucius of United States soldiers in the Pailippines, crucities which he said he deeply deplored, told of some of the crucities which occurred on either side during the Civil war. Neither side, he insisted, was to be held responsible for those regrettable occurrences as neither side was to be held responsible for those regrettable occurrences, as neither side approved of them. He suggested, moreover, that semators from South Carolina and Mississippi, "Where there is less apoputar liberty than in any others, were shouting loudest for constitutional liberty in the Philippines."

These remarks caused a sensational reply by Mr. Tillman, who declared that it was no longer possible to sneer away the responsibility for the infacies committed by the Americans in the Philippines.

The Presbyterian synod tonight held a platform meeting at which addresses were given by Rev. A. O. McRae, D. A. McRae, and R. G. McBeth. The twentieth century fund report was presented by Rev. Dr. McLaren. It contained a request from Rev. Dr. Campbell of Renfrew, Ont., who has charge of fund that all amounts still due be promptly paid. It showed that of a total of $10.892.30 subscribed, $7,683.10 had been paid. Dr. Herdman reported for the Augmentation Fund committee. Satisfactory progress exceeding that of any synod, had been made during the year in connection with the development of self supporting churches, which included four for the year. the responsibility for the infacies committed by the Americans in the Philippines.

He said that if it had been known in the South that the reins of government were to be given to negroes, the Givil war would have been prolonged indefinitely. He insisted that in order to maintain their self respect the white people of the south had been obliged to subdue the negro by whaterer means they could, using the shotgun as one of the means. He frankly describes how the negroes had been defeated at the polks, admitting that the whites get just such majorities as were necessary.

"When we get ready to put a nigger's face in the sand," he shouted, "We put his body there too." He declared that the people of the north would never turn from their "Game of deviltry in the Philippines," and assist the South to riditself of the threat of negro domination. Man Caught in Tacoma With Opium o His Person. Slayer Then Ends His Own Life

W. H. Horr, a gray-bearded, patriar-chal man, 60 years of age, who lives in a shack on the waterfront in Seattle, was arrested on Wednesday at Tacoma, as he stepped off the steamer City of Aber-deen, which had just arrived from Se-attle, by Customs Inspector S. A. Brink-er, of Seattle. In a canvas sack belted around Horr's body, underneath his coat, were found 20 feetful cans of contra-New York, May S.—Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, was shot and killed by his brother, Malcolm Webster Ford, writer and athlete, who immediately sent a bullet into his own breast, dying The shooting occurred at 10:20 a.m., in the handsome new mausion which Paul Leicester Ford had built at 37 East 77th street, and had occupied for a year. At the time of the shooting those in the horse beside the two brothers were Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford, Miss Elizabeth Hall, the novelist's secretary, and the servants. The novelist was sitting at his desk in the corner of his library. It is supposed he was engaged at some literary work. Miss Hall was at her desk in another corner of the same room: Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford was in her goom.

er, of Seattle. In a canvas sace betted around Horr's body, underneath his coat, were found 20 five-tael cans of contraband opium. Later in the day Horr was given a preliminary hearing before Unitted States Commissioner Clifford, and by him was bound over in the sum of $1,000 to await the action of the federal grand jury, which sits in Seattle in June. Horr could not furnish the bail and was committed to the county jail. Horr is one of the oldest smuggling offenders known to the customs department of the Puget Sound district. For 20 years past he has been operating in unstamped opium. His tacties have been so devious and hard to foliow that he has been called "the king of smugglers." Immigrant Inspector B. F. Jossey, who recently shot himself in Arizona, about trap Horr, but for several years his vigilance was more than matched by the cupning manipulations of the old man. in another corner of the same room; Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford was in her lyoon.

Malcoim Ford called, as he had often done, and went to his brother's desk. Words were exchanged in a tone so low that Miss Hall could not hear what was said, though she was not paying attention to the incident. Suddenly there was a revolver shot and Miss Hall darted from the room. Then, according to the statements of the police, she considered that she must act more bravely, and rentered the library.

Mr. Malcolm Ford had called her. As she turned towards him, he placed his revolver to his heart, fired and fell, dying instantly. When Miss Hall turned to look at Paul Ford, he still was standing at his desk, but rapidly losing strength. She helped him to a sofa and then ran next door for his doctor, Dr. Emanuel Baruch. In less than five minutes the doctor arrived, and the dying man, still conscious, was carried up to a room and placed on his bed. He spoke to his wife and asked the doctor for his opinion, showing that he expected death and was going to meet it calmly and bravely. About 20 minutes after he was shot he died.

It is said that there was enmity beuigliance was more than material vigilance was more than material manipulations of the old man. Horr was then living in Tacoma and confederates brought opium from Seartle and British Colambia cities and cached it was bouse. A man by the name of at his house. him with contraband opium on his person.

Guie weakened, and upon the promise of being let off easy, turned state's evidence, divinging the work of $\mathfrak{ghe}$ smuggling ring and implicating Horr. The testimony showed that Horr had never handled the opium or carried it from one lity to another, but the fact that 'his house was used as a cache for it warranted the court in giving him 18 months in the federal penitentiary and a heavy fine. Upon being liberated from the penitentiary five years ago Horr went to live in Seattle, and, the customs officers believe, went back into the smuggling business at the same time. The 20 cans each contained half a pound of opium and the duty on the lot would amount to $60.

It is said that there was enmity between the two brothers and consequent bitterness, and that it was of 11 years standing, that never since the death of their father have they been on intimate or brotherly terms. This alleged enmity on the part of Malcolm is said to have been brought about by the fact that the father of the boys disinherited Malcolm and that this action on the father's part was because he did not wish Malcolm to devote himself to an athletic career.

Six new cafe cars have just been turned out of the Canadian Pacific shops at Hochelaga, Montreal, and are in every way masterpieces of the carbuilding art. The Montreal Star states that two of these—the "Columbia" and the "Kootenay"—have been specially built for the regions they are named after, and are combined parlor cafe cars. The others are of the cafe order, being a combination of a first-class car and a diner. Half of the car has the standard number of passenger seats, while the adjoining compartment is a zommodious, handsomely furnished dining room, with seats for sixteen guests. The kitchen is a gem, all the culinary implements being of copper and aluminium.

MORE LINERS.

Another Line to Be Established From

Under date of Wednesday the San Francisco Chronicle says:
"Thins are being quietly prepared in the Bast for the creation of a new trans-Pacific steamship line between San Fran-cisco and Hongkong. It is intended to have a number of freight and passenger-carrying steamers running in conjunc-tion with the proposed Canton and Hanby the Brice syndicate.

One million five hundred thousand tons of steel rails for this new Chinese railway have been ordered in Hinois and will be shipped to the Orient. That single item of freight will form the nucleus of the traffic on which to establish a new line of ocean steamers. The present problem is the arrangement with some continental railway, find it is some continental railway, and it is thought this will be effected in the next six months.

A. E. McPHILLIPS.

Nearly everyone in Victoria must remember the pressure brought to bear upon the members for Victoria about a year ago, to support a certain scheme which did not commend itself to the government, but which did commend itself very consols. Stock therefore means an interest in money loaned for which there is the case of Mr. A. E. McPhillips, that pressure was successful. He was then, as he is now, a very strong upholder of the doctrine that the people in electing a representative, delegate to his individual judgment the conduct of public affairs, his opinions or his actions, but merely to pass judgment upon them at a later to pass judgment upon them at a later stage. Still he yielded, or appeared to stage. Still he yielded, or appeared to be stage. yield, to the pressure brought to bear been, like Macbeth's visionary dagger, marshalling him the way that he was have going, but all the external evidence is It has always appeared to us as an antito the effect that it influenced his course of action to the extent of altering its direction. That, however, has to do with the personal responsibility of Mr. Mc-Phillips for his actions of the action of Mr. Mc-Phillips for his actions of the market of the action of Phillips for his actions of a year ago, and an apparent inconsistency between what he did then and what he seems about to do now. We hasten to affirm our belief that however wrongly M was very plentiful in New York and the McPhillips may act at any time, he will Americans were able to create large lo so from perfectly honorable motives. We leave the continual implication of character such methods of political critiimpure motives to those with whose with ours. What we propose to do is to analyze the position which VI to analyze the position which Mr. McPhillips adopts as defining the duty of a representation. We write the defining the duty of a representation of the duty resentative. We quite agree with him that there is nothing federal in our system of representative government. A member of parliament is, in all matters affecting the ecountry as a whole, the money. But attack their money. But attack their money. affecting the ecountry as a whole, the trustee of one portion just as much as money. But stock inscribed in London is to all intents and purposes barred out trustee of one portion joe.

Consols are a big enough thing to make their form imthe trustee of the people rests upon every member of parliament. But we remind him that almost any abstract doctrine, ried into rank absurdity in dealing with concrete propositions. We take issue quarters, or home station, for the new with him absolutely that there is any process by which a representative can argue himself into occupying any other position than that of a representative. Under our system of government, the voice of the people is the voice of God. That is to say, that we believe that the will of by the people interprets the Divine will in matters of government. It follows naturally from that, that the process of electing a representative is not the process of substituting the jadgment of an individual for the will of the people. Such an idea would involve a complete antinomy, the conflict of the principle of representa-tive government; with the principle of determining public policy by virtue of our system by the election of members nember should resign his seat lest he force his conscience on the one hand, or come a dictator. We fail altogether to and. see where the policy on which Mr. Mc-Phillips is now opposing the government is out of harmony with the general principles on which he was elected as a representative. We know that what we may call the legitimate opposition to that policy is based upon arguments as to what the public advantage demands, which Mr. McPhillips has himself on many occasions fearlessly and successfully combatted. We are therefore almost compelled to believe that Mr. Mc-Phillips' attitude is determined not by ed in that policy, which are in harmony with the principles upon which he received his representative status, but by considerations of a more personal character, namely, that he has lost confidence in, and is no longer affiliated to, the individuals who are representative of these principles in legislation. A correspondent asks us to explain the ristered stock" and "debenture stock." We imagine he must have written "reas "inscribed" stock. At least we have of taxes than will the United States een able to discover nothing of a dislinctive character known as registered stock. But we do not profess any great authority on such subjects. There are endless forms of stocks and shares and debenture bonds. The best way to get an idea of what inscribed stock mean s to remember that when the "stock" is used in reference to "shares. t is used in an improper sense. We of ten have the designation retained "stock and share broker," implying that there is a difference between them. In Canada and the United States the distinction has been lost, because there is nothing in finance to correspond with the classical meaning of stock. Originally, when a nan lent money to the King's Exchequer, he received a split hazel stick, on which the amount was cut in notches. That was his stock. The Exchequer retained the other half, which was known as the counterstock. This money was only repayable at the King's pleasure. but interest was paid upon it out of cer tain revenues hypothecated for the pur pose and called "the funds." These funds were afterwards all consolidated and the particular revenues securing different issues released, hence our word certificate is the evidence which the creditor has, the modern equivalent of the split hazel stick. These certificates may be issued for any sum. The purchaser and have no right to attempt to influence rets his certificate and his name is inscribed on the roll for the amount of money he has paid in. This is the sysrows money, although our stock is not upon him. That pressure may have permanent, but redeemable in a term of years. What merits it possesses we never been able to understand.

PRESS COMMENTS.

Putting it at the very lowest, by the time Mr. Rhodes' scholarships have been in existence thirty years the Empire will be dotted over with men who will be able to understand clearly the British noint of view. This applies equally to the case of the students from the United States. The Americans who have come here as lads will never feel quite the same about England and Oxford. They may not become Anglomaniaes—indeed, we sincerely hope they will not—but at least they will realize that the British islands are not in the fendal stage, and that people here do not go about the world as many Americans worship lords a right down and worship lords a right of the control of the real stage, and that people here do not go about the world as many Americans inling in the work of creating worship lords a most striking lords and for the real striking to connection is the best and strongest possible, and if it can be secured our race may be afraid neither of internal strife nor of foreign foes. If and when it is secured, Oxford and Mr. Rhodes will be found to have had no mean share in the great work.—Loudon Spectator.

It is evident that certain of the leaders of the opposition in the local legislature were ambitions to go to London as the province's representative at the Coronation, and that at least one of these gentlemen saw an opportunity afforded him in the defeat of the government. We are loth to believe that any public man in this or any of the provinces in Canada would lead his efforts to the overthrow of an administration simply to gratify a little personal ambition of a social character, and so imperit the interests of his country in such an accomplishment.—The Province.

FOSTER FAILURE.

From Ashcroft Journal.

The many friends of Mr. F. W. Foster will be glad to know that at a meeting of his creditors in Victoria last week it was decided that as the statement of the business presented by Mr. Davidson, the trustee, was so favorable, the business would be continued. The amount of accounts owing to Mr. Foster is very large, and if those owing will deal as fairly by him in making quiek payments as he has done by them in giving credit, the business may soon pay all its indebtedness. The stocks at Ashcroft and Clinton are large and complete. Mr. Davidson will be in charge at Ashcroft and live here, and Mr. C. B. Deans takes charge at Clinton. From Ashcroft Journal.

The foot spreads when borne upon! It contracts again when lifted!

A new shoe, which fits the foot neatly when off the ground, must therefore pinch it when stood upon, till it is stretched to the maximum width of foot.

A shoe which has thus been stretched, till comfortable across the ball when stood upon, must be too loose when the foot is lifted.

The RESILIA is the only shoe which expands at the ball when the foot does, and contracts again when lifted.

It becomes a size larger inside when the foot sinks down into the resilient centresole, the rebounding of which takes up the leather slack again when foot is lifted.

It is thus as easy as an old shoe the first moment it is worn, requires no "breaking in," and retains its shape because the leather is never overstretched.

Police Court.—Charles Hansen was sentenced to seven months' imprisonment for stealing, in the civy police court yesterday morning. On the charge of taking a box of biscuits from Erskine, Wall & Co.'s store, he was given six months, and for stealing the Colonist, another month was added. Reginald Wilsie, who also stole the Colonist, was given one month on that charge. He will serve three months altogether, as last November he was up for stealing a cash box, and was allowed out on suspended sentence, on condition that he behaved himself. As he failed to do this, he was given an extra two months. B. Oliver, and A. Claque, the "mirror smasher," were each fined $5 for being drunk.

> Mr. Sawers Uses Very Unparliamentary Language to Mr. Belves.

Yesterday the eighteenth day of the For Giving and Receiving.—John Aibert was arrested last night, charged with supplying liquor to an Indian, and Circus Jimmy, an Indian scaler, was arrested for being in possession of the liquor. Jimmy is a well known character, He was on the schooner Fawn when she was stranded on Catalina island on February 17.

Court of Revision.—At the next meeting of the City Council, Ald. Cameron will move that the first sitting of the Court of Revision of the municipality of Victoria be held in the council chamber, City hall, on Tuesday, June 17, at 10 a. m., for the purpose of hearing complaints against the assessment as made by the assessor, and for revising and correcting the assessment roll.

name of his wife's father's brother, from whom he had afterwards got a bill of sale.

Mr. Belyca then summed up the case for his client, and claiming that the enquiry should be confined to the definite charges made against Mr. Graham. These he then took up seriatim, and claimed that in the great mass of evidence adduced before the commission nothing was found to substantiate the charges of fraud made against that official, that Mr. Sawer's witnesses absolutely failed to prove them, and that from the testimony given by Messus, Graham and Bickle nothing could be found to support the suspicious upon which it was charged that a conspiracy existed to cheat the government out of the large sum of money of $750.

This address was replied to by Mr. Sawers who pointed out that half a dozen witnesses had sworn that the building had not cost more than $200, while Mr. Stables had only put it at $385 in a very carefully detailed estimate. He also held that there was strong 'evidence that Mr. Graham owned the building in question, and that Bickle simply represented him, and that their story was simply patched up afterwards to encount for the $750.

This concluded the case and the Select committee adjourned its sitting to meet

SITTING OF

CIVIL ASSIZE

Pither and Leiser vs John A Mapley Decided in Favor of Plaintiffs.

Mr. A. Martin appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. W. J. Taylor, K. C., for the larger building in question. This valuation had been based on a five year's rental. The cost of insurance had not, however, been deducted, and no account was taken in the calculation of the fact that these buildings could only be expected to be occupied during six months of the year. The witness also dispated Mr. Lowry's rates regarding the cost of lumber and labor.

This closed the evidence offered in support of the charges, and Mr. Belyea asked to have Mr. Bickle recalled to explain the ownership of the Piper lot. Bickle had been in the government service and so had bought the lot in the name of his wife's father's brother, from whom he had afterwards got a bill of sale.

Mr. Belyea then summed up the cases for his client, and claiming that the equity should be confined to the definite charges made against Mr. Graham, These he then took up seriatim, and claimed that in the great mass of eying the charges of fraud made against that official, that Mr. Sawer's witnesses absolutely failed to prove them, and that from the testimony given by Messrs. Graham and Bickle nothing could be found to support the suspicions upon which it was charged that a conspiracy existed to cheart the government out of the large sum of money of $750.

People are constantly seeking an ideal investment, but let us consider what constitutes an ideal investment. There are four requisites: First, an ideal investment must be absolutely safe, without this no investment is worthy of a moment's consideration. Secondly, it must be are a good rate of interest. Thirdly, it must be free from taxation, that sapper of net returns and, fourthly, it must have the element of permanency and be free from the worry and care of reinvestment. Such an ideal investment can be had in the FIVE PER CENT. DEBENTURE BONDS issued by THE MUTUAL LIFE OF CANADA, one of the oldest and strongest financial institutions in Canada. MILLER CAPTURED. ed Prisoner Taken Yesterday Af-ternoon in a Hay Barn.

James Miller, alias Toban, is once more behind the bars. Caught in a hay mow yesterday afternoon, he told the officers how sorry howas that he had not kept moving. The recapture was quite an uneventful one, and the runaway prisoner came back to the provincial juil without protest, but with a management of the provincial pail without protest, but with a management of the protest of the prote the provincial jail, who was persistently keeping up the search for the man who broke out of the chain gang line and dodged the bullets. The sweet smells of spring led the pair aside from beaten paths and in crossing a field near the Goodacre slaughterhouse they came to a barn. Hopelessly the couple entered the barn. It was full of hay, but a fork was near the door. One of the clover, when up rose Toban, fearful of the long steel thes. He said that he had been there ever since getting away, but had stayed too long. Without more ado he accompanied the officers back to his old quarters in Warden John's hall.

Canada is a nation or workers. The few who have acquired positions of wealth and leisure have done so through hard work, and the vast majority find it necessary to toil day after day, and year after year, to support themselves and those depending on them. Their capital is good health. So long as this lasts they are happy and contented, but, alas! too many are robbed of this capital, and find themselves unable to keep up the struggle. With no earnings coming in, their small savings are soon exhausted, and want as well as disease stares them in the face.

Disease is humanity's most deadly for. Silently, gradually, it steals upon one, until at length it closes its fangs on its victim and secretly robs him of energy, ambition and strength. In this age of keen competition, strenuous work and ceaseless struggle it is the nerrous system that most readily feels the strain. Nights of sleeplessness, days of tired, languid feelings, depression, discouragment and 'despondency, neuralgic pains, shattered nerves, weakness and irregularities of bodily organs. These are some of the warnings of the approach of such serious and fatal diseases as nervous aprostration, paralysis, locomotor ataxia and insanity.

Maintaining good health is to the ma-

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world, and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unlike any trea ment you ever used. It does not act as a stimulant to whip up the tired nerves into exhausting action, nor, on the other hand, does it deaden and destroy the feeble nerve tissues, but by filling the shrivelled arteries with rich, red, life-sustaining blood, it repairs the waste and revitalizes and restores the body to health and strength. ## The New Flagship

VICTORIA DAILI COLONISI, FRIDAI, MAI 9, 1902

Two armed patrols were also landed at Coquimbo prior to the landing at Guatamala. On March 19, when the Grafton was lying off the Chilian port, some of the bluejackets, who had shore leave, got into a row ashore. The sailors were cornered by a growing throng of Chilianos, who were wildly excited, and the sailors were holding them off, until on the news of the row being carried to the vessel, armed landing parties were hurried ashore, and the rioters fled. The sailors were then, escorted on board and further shore leave stopped. The row caused considerable excitement.

The Grafton left Devonport on January 31 and encountered a heavy gale outside. The storm continued for some days, and when the warship reached Madiera, on February 4, the gale still prevailed. As a result of the blow no communication was held with the shore, and the Grafton left for St. Vincent on the following morning. She coaled at St. Vincent, remaining there until February 13, and then steamed through the tropical seas to Montevideo, which pert was reached on February 25. On February 17, as the crew were engaged in drilling, clearing the ship for action, Gr. Thompson, of the marines, had his right arm crushed by the falling of a davit, as a result of a pin being abstracted too soon. The unfortunate man had to have his arm amputated.

At Montevideo 41, M. S. Basilisk was met. The Grafton coaled at Montevideo and arrived at Sandy Point on Marel 2.

The doctor advised Mr. Leonard to work less at his desk, exercise more outdoors and take beer as a tonic, something the profession and never card for. Mr. Curtis rose to a question of privilege. He took exception to an editorial in the morning Colonist regarding his remarks on the deputation of Victoria citizens, of which he read extracts as citizens, of which he rend extracts as follows:

"Mr. Smith Curtis raised a question of privilege yesterday, attacking the authenticity of a report made by this newspaper of what he said in reference to the delegation which interviewed the members for Victoria the day before yesterday. Mr. Curtis was actually reported as follows:

"He criticized in very strong terms the deputation of Victoria business men who interviewed Mr. McPhillips yesterday. He intimated that they were a disgrace to the province and a discredit to the city."

He asked the government if they had any information on the subject?

Hon. Col. Prior said the government had no information on the subject, but they hoped the report was true, as at would go to show that the Imperial government had at last recognized the importance of the taking of measures to deal with Asiatic immigration.

Mr. McInnes presented the petition of Cory S. Ryder and others, praying for the construction of a bridge.

FORESHORE RIGHTS.

FORESHORE RIGHTS.

FORESHORE RIGHTS.

Mr. Gifford resumed the debate on Mr. MeBride's motion of censure regarding foreshore rights. He felt that the government had made a grave mistake in opening the foreshore reserve until such time as an understanding on the subject with the Dominion government. The government's action had caused a feeling of uncertainty and unrest in the minds of many engaged in salmon fishing, and whatever the intention of the government he thought they should reseind the order opening the reserve. He read a despatch to show the sentiment of certain of his constituents on this subject. The despatch set out a resolution urging the government to dispose of foreshore rights by public competition.

Mr. McBride closed the debate. He

Mr. McBride closed the debate. He claimed that the effect of his motion had been a change in the government policy. He reiterated his charge that the government had had the intention of giving away the foreshore to political friends, to whom they had promised these valuable concessions.

Hon. Col. Prior emphatically denied that any promises had been made, but no action had been taken, and there that the government had not made any promise to him on behalf of any of the applicants.

Mr. McBride continued, repeating his charges against the government on the same lines, and in practically the same words which he u of in his speech on moving his resolution. He then wandered off into a violent on-slunght on Mr. Greenshields, until sharply called to order by Mr. Speaker.

He reviewed the remarks of honorable members who had taken part in the debate, commending those of the supporters of the resolution, "danning with faint praise" those of Messrs. Hayward, Helmeken and others who had taken a non-partizan view of the case, and concluded by appealing for support for his resolution.

The resolution was defeated on the following division:

Ayes—Messrs, E. C. Smith, Oliver, Noill, Hawthornthwaite, Gifford, Curtis, Munro, Kidd, Green, McPhillips, Tarlow, Garden, Fulton, McBride, Taylor and Murphy—16.

Nays—Messrs, McInnes, Gilmour, Stables, Martin, Hall, Prior, Dunsmuir, Elects, A. W. Smith, Ellison, Clifford, Hayward, Prentice, Wells, Rogers, Hunter, Dickie, Mounce—18.

Hon, Mr. Eberts said the printed copies of the agreement were correct copies, if Mr. Oliver meant to insinuate that the alien clause had been left out, he was mistaken.

Mr. Hall called attention to the following despatch appearing in the press, which was of great interest to the people of British Columbia:

"Specials from London announce the signature of King Edward to make a thorough enquiry into:

"I. The character and extent of the evils attributable to unrestricted immigration of allens into the United King dom, and (2) all measures that have been adopted for the restriction and control face of the restriction and control that men on public works in Revelstoke district were discriminated against in not receiving the same rate of wages as those employed in Nerson and Shoem districts. He then withdrew his resolution.

E. & N. SETTLERS.

Air. Hawthornthwaite resumed his argument in behalf of the settlers in the Esquinalt and Namaino-Hailway belt. He read from the report of Mr. Rothwell, who had characterized the treatment of those settlers as legalized injustice. Sir Wifrid Laurier, Hon. Wm. Mulock, Hon. David Mills and other prominent Canadian statesmen had expressed themselves very emphatically on the rights of these settlers, and it was ramored that one reason for the hesitancy of the Dominion to grant aid to the Comox & Cape Sectt failway was the fact that the grievances had not been remedied. He quoted from speeches by Sir Wiffrid Laurier, and the other gentlemen mentioned, to show that the settlers were actually induced to settle upon the lands and were promised all timber. coal, and mineral rights. There was no reservation of coal or minerals in the Land Act of 1875. There was no reservation of coal or minerals in the Land Act of 1875. There was no doubt at all that those men, some 200, had legal rights to the lands they claimed. They had taken their cases to the courts which had decided that they had no rights to the lands, as the lands were reserved and, strange to say, in the case of a corporation which applied for a portion of those same lands as part of a reserve, the court decided that they never had been reserved.

Mr. Hawthornthwaite concluded by making an impassioned appeal for the E. & N. settlers, whose grievances, suffered for years, were due to the injustice and aparty of the Legislature of British Columbia. He had seen the goods of one of those settlers, Mr. Hogan, thrown into the streets by officers of the law. He had seen in Ireland the pitful, heartrending spectacle of the eviction of a peasant farmer, and when he left that country he had hoped for better things in this new land of freedom and justice. He appealed to every member of the House to use his influence towards securing a redress of these long standing mistaken, policy on the part of one looking for sympathy for the cause he espoused. He (McInnes) had introduced a similar resolution in the Dominion on the order paper, but it had not been given the support of honorable members. He accused Mr. Hawthornthwaite of having appropriated the substance of his resolution of last session for the purpose of making a little cheap motoriety. His resolution had asked for definite action, while that of Mr. Hawthornthwaite only asked for consideration. He twitted Mr. Hawthornthwaite with making a speech to the galleries, and having no real interest in the case of the settlers. The case of Mr. Hogan, which he had cited, was not at all parallel with the cases of the old settlers. Hogan had gone to Nanaimo as a land speculator, he had attempted to secure land on the Newcastle to wnsite, and his case had been carried from court to court and decided against him by the Privy council.

Mr. McInnes had taken that ground at Ottawa. He had had a commission in there were over a hundred settlers who had rights, and in spite of the report of the Hritish Columbia commissioner, Judge Harrison, those rights shoulf be respected and equitably dealt with. Those settlers had a right to the minerals mights to the surface from the Dominion government, and he held that it was well as the surface. They had received patents to the surface from the Dominion government and he held that it was to competent and proper that the province, which had never alienated that it, was to the surface from the pominion government, and he held that it was to competent and proper that the province, which had never alienated the mineral sights to the Dominion, should issue crown grants for the mineral rights, one for Manitoba. Synod Discusses Mission Field and Work Already Taken.

Rev. W. Leslie Clay Opposes Dividing Energies Where

Nanaimo, B. C., May 8.-The Presby terian synod assembled this morning at 9:30, and after half an hour's devo-tional exercises, the business of the meeting came up. The discussion of home missions was introduced by the reading of the annual report by Rev. Dr. McLaren, convener of committee. The report was very encouraging, showing that the work had made steady proing that the work had made steady progress during the year. He paid a very high and well deserved tribute to the memory of the late Dr. Robertson, superintendent of missionaries, who died during the year. To superintend the home work of the general assembly, it is recommended to appoint two superintendents, one for Manitoba and the Northwest, the other for British Columbia.

The Law of the matter, they had not seized the lands or deprived the settlers of any rights, they had merely exercised the privileges granted them by the Dominion government.

He concluded by urging the government to take the case seriously into consideration and secure justice to the settlers.

Hon, Col. Prior said the settlers were to be congratulated on their champions in the House. These cases had been investigated by two commissions, one appointed by the Dominion, and the other by the province, and the reports of the commissioners did not agree. The government were anxious to see justice done in the case, and would give it the serious consideration which it deserved.

Mr. Neill, as seconder of the resolution, said he was a member of a committee which had investigated the case of the settlers, and he could assure the House that the conviction had been forced upon him that they had been very wrongfully treated. He congratulated the mover of the resolution and the government, in promising to act upon it.

Mr. Green moved the adjournment of the debate.

pathy in your long continued illness, and pray for your recovery."

Dr. Campbell reported for the committee on foreign missions, which includes Indian and Chinese work. He went very fully into the year's work. During the year he had visited every mission on the West Const and so was in a position to speak of the needs of that section. He included a list of recommendations to be sent to the foreign mission committee of fine General Assembly.

to be sent to the foreign mission committee of the General Assembly.

Rev. R. G. McBeth could not give these recommendations his support, while he favored these in themselves, and was satisfied that Dr. Campbell was an authority upon such matters, yet the attitude the General Assembly had assumed upon such recommendations in the past, promitted him to think they there were little use making such. The recommendations were taken up. Among those approved of were, one for the enlargement of the home at Alberni, and the recetion of a new home at Ahousett. A recommendation to undertake missionary work among the Japanese in British Columbia, was combatted by Rev. W. Leshe Clay. He outlined his reasons for opposing it. Already the Methodist and Baptist churches were engaged in Japanese work. The former had strong missions in Japan. The Presbyterian church had, unless the mission at Formosa were taken as such, no Japanese missions. He did not favor taking this work up and dividing their energies.

Prosbytery, in allowing West caurch permission to acquire a site nearer the centre of the city. A delegation representing St. Andrews' consisting of Rev. A. E. Vest, J. Clure, P. Burell, J. Spott, D. Barc'ay and J. C. Brown appeared before the Synod. Rev. Mr. Wright representing the Presbytery defended its action on the ground that the population of New Westminster had changed since the West End church was built. He read a lengthy answer to the reasons prepared by St. Andrews' by which this appeal should be sustained.

Rev. A. E. Vest, took the remainder of the afternoon in his statement of the case.
